DEPARTMENT OF
FINANCE
Spears School of Business

Major Specific Course Curriculum:

Investments:

Understand the various approaches to selecting and timing investment opportunities. Through a trading simulation, students learn more about common stocks, bonds, commodities, and options.

Energy and Valuation:

Analyze the oil, gas, and power of industries. Use energy specific case studies to understand financial statements, valuation, risks in capital budgeting, risk management, and alternative energy topics.

Banking Strategies and Policies:

Weekly topical discussions on current issues affecting the banking industry, using the Wall Street Journal as a source. These discussions include money laundering, mergers and acquisitions, ethics and regulations, as well as economic issues hurting or helping the banking sector.

Real Estate Investment and Finance:

Using the Wall Street Journal as a source, students learn about residential and commercial real estate trends, laws, ethics, and global investors affecting the U.S. real estate market. Students use an analytical tool provided to OSU by Fundrise, a leader in crowd sourced commercial real estate investment, to analyze commercial real estate opportunities.

SPEARS STUDENT EXPERIENCE

A Day with: Chandler G. | Finance

- Attend Cowboy Bootcamp fitness class at the Colvin Recreation Center.
- Grab an iced coffee from Business Perks Coffee Shop.
- Walk to my Financial Investments class where we analyze the relationship between risk and return on micro-cap companies.
- Lead Supplemental Instruction (SI) session for the Introductory Finance class, where I serve as a student tutor.
- Attend Student Alumni Board meeting where we plan the annual OSU Legacy Weekend. I assist with budget creation and management.
